Action on Climate Change and Environmental Regeneration

Connected approaches that address climate change mitigation, biodiversity enhancement, equitable adaptation, and that transition to a net zero economy

- ✓ Climate change and just transition
- ✓ Environmental regeneration, protection and education sustainably
- ✓ Mātauranga Māori

TTF supports environmental justice for Aotearoa where:

- ✓ Climate change mitigation strategies limit planet warming to within 1.5 degrees
- ✓ Climate adaptation solutions are equitable and where possible, community-led
- ✓ A transition to a net zero economy is fair to and inclusive of everyone
- ✓ Te Ao Maori views and knowledge are respected and included
- ✓ The importance of Mātauranga Māori is recognised
- ✓ Our economy is non-exploitative, renewable, and sustainable
- ✓ New Zealanders understand how to restore and protect our environment

Climate change and just transition

Initiatives that support

- ✓ Nature-based climate change mitigation solutions that aim to keep global temperature rise below 1.5 degrees
- ✓ Equitable adaptation solution
- ✓ A just and equitable economy operating within sustainable limits
- ✓ Progression towards a sustainable financial system

Environmental regeneration, protection and education

- ✓ Local conservation and environmental education initiatives that support projects through our Environmental Donation Manager.
- ✓ New Zealanders feel connected to the environment and act as environmental guardians.
- ✓ Natural regeneration and restoration projects that protect and sustainably manage our environment, prioritising natives trees.
- ✓ Conservation projects that bring people together with a 'large landscape' approach, specifically ecosystems with special environmental and cultural values.
- ✓ Support for the development of financial instruments that protect and enhance nature.

Ensure that

- ✓ Te Ao Māori views and knowledge are supported, and the roles and practices of Māori are recognised and promoted across conservation in Aotearoa.
- ✓ Mātauranga Māori is valued as an equal partner in climate change, environmental restoration, and transition initiatives.
